When selling your home, it's amazing what a difference one day can make

Selling your house is always an emotional journey. The uncertainty of auction is a definite strain on the nerves.

With the market value of your tired home set, Auction Squad steps in, farewells the family for 12 hours and with attention to function and aesthetics completes a makeover inside and out making the most of a limited DIY budget.

The clock is ticking, and the big question is always, "has the home's value increased and will it sell?"

Auction Squad takes a lively and upbeat approach to the business of renovating properties. While the program is packed with information, DIY techniques and original ideas to help owners get top dollar when selling, it is also about teamwork and the 'Squad' always tackles the challenge with goodwill, humour and wit.

It is an emotional journey as we are taken into the lives of the home owner. Their hopes, fears and expectations of selling their home are revealed. At the end of the day, it's a climactic moment as the home owners return to their renovated home. There's laughter, tears of joy, regret at selling, or just speechlessness.

When the hammer falls on auction day, there's surprise and satisfaction all round as the home owners get more than they anticipated.

Auction Squad proves that a low budget, a little inspiration and a hard day's work goes a long way towards raising the value of any home.
